

Happy Lord Happy Life

SUGGESTED WAYS TO MAKE HIM HAPPY EFFORTLESSLY

Titus 2:4 (KJV) tells us that we are to learn to love our husbands. Many may think that this can be done through things purchased or by pleasure only. We are commanded to grow old together and to become one flesh. In that consider the things our men go through on a daily bases; the stress and the cares of the world. As pillars is it not up to us to take those things away from him? The below list is a compiled list from aged women in this truth and in marriage. Given in hopes to provide find the things to help learn to love our Lord. Nevertheless, figure out what your Lord loves and do those things accordingly. Prayers for a Happy Marriage MHNCB!

The Home:

Keep it clean; having a place for everything and everything in its place.

Dinner made: Ask what he would like to eat or surprise him with his favorite dish to include a favorite desert. The aroma will put the joy in any marriage

Home: Make home his Palace even if it's a mean cottage make it feel like his kingdom.

Quiet Children: Have the children on a routine so that they are prepared to provide a peaceful home for your Lord to enter.

The Children: Talk highly of him especially around your children and others.

Give him space: Give your Lord time to decompress. You never know the day he may have had. Give him time to get home and get out of being in his work mindset.

Prepare him for the night: Put his underclothes and around the house clothes in the bathroom for him. Start his shower to include all he needs to wash the day away.

Date Night: Make dinner by making it special. Even if you ask for a sister to watch the kids for a few hours.

Music: If he is musically inclined play some soothing music, his favorite of course.

To do list: Ask what tasks he needs done and complete them when required.

Conversations: Watch a class (Read your chapters daily) and take questions to your Lord. It will help you bond over the scriptures.

Compliments: Always compliment him. Not for major things only but for different things you notice about him during the day. His eyes, his lips, muscles whatever it is that you admire.

Respect: Saying Yes Sir or Yes My Lord and be obedient

Self-Care:

Upkeep: Make the attempt to stay in shape, make better choices for your health and his.

Get dressed: The Sabbath and feast days shouldn't be the only time he sees you at your best, do it at home too. This includes your hair and makeup too.

Smell Nice: Who doesn't like a sweet smell? Ensure you apply fragrant oils and soaps where needed.

Learn Him:

Love Language: Know what he is saying even when he says nothing.
