

Feast of Dedication

"Daily Themed Activity"

Shalom MHNCB to you all! I am sister Yochana Liora from the House of Officer Solomon (ATL) here again to share some more fun ideas for your little prophets and princesses this upcoming High Holy Day! Last year for Feast of Dedication a fun idea popped in my head on how to help our children get excited about the Feast along with making it more memorable. I came up with a theme for each day and we made sure we stuck to it! The kids absolutely loved it and my oldest is already anticipating this year's list of events! Check out what we did below!

Things you will need:

- Numbers for each day
- Themes for each day
- Some type of canvas to post your daily timeline
(I just typed "Day" on a sheet of paper and printed it!)
- Laminator machine (optional)

Each day the kids and I would change out the number and post our theme for the day. Last year I organized my days (For example : Monday = Movie Night) but this year I thought it would be fun to just randomly pick a theme! If you choose to go this route be sure to organize as best you can to be able to complete the task as planned. I look forward to seeing what other things you may come up with, Love Yoli !
