

Welcome Home

PURPOSE. The only word that truly describes how I now feel knowing who I am. To finally know "who" and "why" I am brings me great relief and many questions. I asked, 'what's next'? I have watched videos of the men at camp and classroom lessons, but I still needed help. What are fringes and where do I get them? I had to stop wearing pants, I need to cover my head, no more pork, no more tattoos, what other laws have or am I breaking?

It was not until I found righteous council and great examples in the congregation that I truly saw what it was to be repented. That keeping the laws was the only way to love God. The fear of not keeping the laws scared me more than what any family member or friend thought. That I must study to show myself approved. That keeping the Sabbath not only built my spirit but prepared me for the things to come.

So, at first, I did not know there was a camp near me until I visited Israelunite.org. Then I made contact to see what time class started and when I could attend. I prepared myself and was open to all that I experienced. There was so much order and so many brown people, all on one accord. I learned how I am to dress and to conduct myself. I spoke with leadership who gave me righteous council and guidance continuously. They taught me the laws, statutes, and commandments. The MILK to get me into the kingdom.

They taught me that this was the fight of my life. One between my spirit and my flesh. That the laws would help me overcome all those battles if I honestly believed and feared God.

Once knowing that you are Israel there are things you are held accountable for

1. The keeping of God's laws, statutes, and commandments.
2. Your conduct with your brothers and sisters.
3. Self-examining yourself daily to ensure you are and stay in the spirit.
4. Obeying those that are over you, they watch for your soul.
5. Understanding that those that keep the laws are your family.
6. To grow spiritually by understanding that there are levels to understanding. That the longer you obey God the more wisdom you will gain.

These things will help you maintain and sustain this journey to the kingdom.

Psalm 19:7-14 (KJV)

The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul: the testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple.

The statutes of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart: the commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes.

The fear of the Lord is clean, enduring forever: the judgments of the Lord are true and righteous altogether.

More to be desired are they than gold, yea, than much fine gold: sweeter also than honey and the honeycomb.

Moreover, by them is thy servant warned: and in keeping of them there is great reward.

Who can understand his errors? cleanse thou me from secret faults.

Keep back thy servant also from presumptuous sins; let them not have dominion over me: then shall I be upright, and I shall be innocent from the great transgression.

Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength, and my redeemer.
